From primary to secondary, Renaissance Star Reading™ and Renaissance Accelerated Reader™ provide

Renaissance Star Reading is a standardised computer-adaptive cloud-based assessment. A wealth of progress and attainment data is provided immediately on completion, saving teachers time. Questions adapt based on previous answers, so every student takes a test personalised to them. You'll know if students are making expected progress and what they're ready to learn next.

Students log in and answer 34 multiple choice questions, which adapt in difficulty based on the student's responses.

Renaissance Accelerated Reader is one of the most heavily researched programmes in the world. Independent studies from the National Literacy Trust (NLT) and Education Endowment Foundation (EEF) have found a positive relationship between Accelerated Reader usage, reading attainment and enjoyment of reading.

Using the ZPD obtained from their Star Reading test, students can select a suitably challenging book from within their reading range – which ensures that they can access the text while continuing to grow as readers.

Encourage reading for pleasure and understand comprehension

When they've finished the book, students take a short online quiz, assessing if they have read and understood the book. They then move on to the next! Over 30,000 quizzes are available, and more are added every month.

Ofsted-ready reporting

A comprehensive set of reports reveals how much a student has been reading, at what level of complexity, how well they have understood what they have read, and the progress they are making.

“ We love the programme’s ease of use, the depth and precision of the data it provides and its coverage of the full English curricula. ”

“ I think Accelerated Reader is the single most effective literacy strategy we have put in place. It really feels like you are changing student lives every time they pick up a book. ”
